

Snackspace is (mostly) full of wonderful organic consumables for many of the life forms that use the space! The items are usually priced either with a purple star, or on the board to the side, and can be exchanged for coinage. If you are a member, we also have a small honesty system that allows you to put your name on the other board, and have a 'space owes you' or 'I owe the space' figure to help minimise the fumbling with change. Except when we have to count it all!

Snackspace is run and organised by Team Procurement, who manage the sourcing of the snacks that people want to buy - please message us if you have any suggestions!

We have a 'snackspace run' limit of £200 to encourage more frequent, smaller buying sprees. This should allow us to have less waste from things going out of date, allow us to keep a varied range of things in stock, and stop us putting our backs out carrying it all into the space. To this end, we have now got a Hancocks card, as well as a makro card, which should make for quicker food runs. For noodle pots, we go to Wing Yip.
